Historical Society Notes

GRASS VALLEY: The Nevada County Historical Society responded to the County Centennial Committee request for Centennial plans for the fiscal year 1948-49 and submitted a request to the Nevada County Board of Supervisors for county funds to complete the historical mrkers undertaken by the Grass Valley Lions and the Society. Nevada County Museum improvement and maintenance; restoration of the Chinese Joss House in Grass Valley at Memorial Park; work on the proposed Museum at North San Juan and publications. The society asks for $3900 from the county and a like sum from the State Centennial Commission. Work on the Joss House and all other projects will wait for the decision of the County Board of Supervisors.

Chairman Elmer Stevens of the County Centennial Committee states "It is quite likely that the State Centennial Commission will approve of our application for matching moneys provided the County of Nevada approves of the projects planned for this next year.

One other application was made to the Board for $800 for the construction of "Caldwell's Upper Store in Nevada City by George Hansen of the Sierra-Nevada Counties Chamber of Commerce and the Nevada City Chamer. The structure which would be an exact replica of the original first store in Nevada City would serve as a headquarters for the Centennial Years. A large map of Nevada County would be placed on the wall. A reception center would be established with literature and touring information.

No other plans or applications have reached the Committee Chairman. Stevens indicated that other groups would necessarily carry on for the fiscal year as best they could and stated, "Our Nevada County is right in the heart of the Gold country. Over 5,000,000 tourists will come to California during the Centennial Years. Now is the time to prepare, not after the Centennial."

The Nevada County Historical Society through its President Doris Foley indicated a desire to go forward. With its 250 membership and the backing of the county it can go far.

It was hoped to start construction on the Joss House this May, but it will be necessary to hold up all Centennial plans on the decision of the Supervisors.

MOTORISTS' FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Motorists planning to travel in British Columbia are advised by the National Automobile Club that the new motor vehicle responsibility act of the Province calls for impounding automobiles owned by tourists immediately following any accident, regardless of fault, where bodily injury or property damage in excess of $25 results, unless the driver can produce proof of financial responsibility. Tourists should obtain Non-Resident Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Cards from their insurance brokers or agents before entering Canada. The card will obviate the possibility of car impoundment.

V. F. W. COMMENDS THURMAN'S LEGISLATION FOR VETERANS

NEVADA CITY: The stamp of approval of Senator Allen G .Thurman's support of the Veteran's legislation has been given by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of California.

The "California Veteran," monthly newspaper publication of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of California, lists Senator Allen G. Thurman's record in the State Senate and his previous terms in the State Assembly as satisfactory. This is the highest evaluation given legislators by the Veterans of Foreign Wars publication. The records of all State and National legislative members are subject to close scrutiny by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and appraisal of their voting records in behalf of Veteran legislation is published pursuant to Sections 519 and 424 of the Constitution and By-laws of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, United States, on the records of the legislators on important Veteran legislation and is submitted for the information and guidance of the members of the Department of California.

Senator Thurman was a recent guest of Banner Mountain Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 2655, and addressed the group on the California Veteran's program and of his activities in its behalf. The California Veteran's program has been frequently used as a model for other States in enacting similar beneficial Veteran legislation.

TOO MUCH POWER

By Harley M. Leete, Jr.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY SUPERVISOR

The Board of Supervisors deserves hearty commendation for their stand in opposing the Forest Service's Co-Operative Sustained Yield Unit Plan, and denouncing specifically the Woodleaf Unit established under that program.

Sustained yield units sound wonderful—on paper. Their purpose is to conserve the forest. The mechanics are this. Lumbermen who own stands of timber adjacent to Forest Service land agree to adhere to the Forest Service cutting program.

In return for this, the Forest Service agrees to sell certain stands of timber to the lumber operators. These are also to be cut in accordance with official forest practice.

The net result, on paper, is good. Timber is cut only as fast as it grows, and the area in which this is this rule is in effect is increased. Our forests are conserved.

But the set-up doesn't work out in practice as neatly as it does on paper.

Because it infringes on the democratic principles of free enterprise, it vastly increases the power of a government agency. It encourages big operators, discourages small ones. Counties or business enterprises which enter into agreements with forest services officials are soon embarassed when the responsible official is transferred and replaced with another executive, equally intelligent, but equipped with an entirely new set of directives, instructions and interpretations from the brilliant but ever-changing minds in Washington.

Thus the municipalities place a portion of their welfare and future in the hands of a government agency which thinks not in terms of localities, of individual sawmill companies, but in terms of the vast nation.

The rise or fall of Nevada City or Grass Valley is too small a factor for the geniuses in Washington to seriously consider.

That is our own lookout—and we can best protect and retain control of our future by joining the Board of Supervisors and the Lumbermen's Protective Association in their stand against the Co-operative Sustained Yield Unit policy.

SPORTSMEN DEPEND ON AUTO TRANSPORTATION

America's milions of sportsmen have come to depend almost wholly upon private automobile transportation to reach their favorite fishing and hunting grounds, the California State Automobile Association reports as the result of recent studies which show that 99 out of every 100 sportsmen travel to their objectives by automobile. Not infrequently hunters anl fishermen will travel hundreds of miles or even across country, to reach their favorite areas.

An average of 25 to 30 per cent of fishing and hunting expenses are for automobile transportation, the Automobile Association reports. This comprises the greatest single item of cost, exceeding even that of fishing equipment or shotgun and shells.

With fishing and hunting season opening in the near future, these hints are offered to sportsmen:

Use your car's ashtray for putting out cigarettes or burning tobacco.

Clean up your campsite when you leave. Someone else will want to use that spot.

Don't use highway directional and warning signs for target practice; remember they are installed for the guidance and protection of the motoring public.

PHIL BRADLEY ILL

GRASS VALLEY: Philip Bradley, well known mining man and former Grass Valley resident, who recently came up from San Francisco to spend a few days in Bret Harte Inn, is ill in the Jones Memorial Hospital. Bradley's illness is not regarded as serious.

HARTMAN ASKS OPENING OF MINES

GRASS VALLEY: Louis Hartman, who seks both the Republican and Democratic nominations in the June 1st primary in the 10 counties of the 6th Assembly District comprising Placer, Nevada, Eldorado, Alpine, Mono, Inyo, Amador, Calaveras, Tuolumne and Mariposa, today issued the following statement:

"I consider myself through my associations, a part of the mining industry of this state. Nevada County, my home county, is the leading mining county in the 6th Assembly District. This industry is ably represented in the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce of which I am President.

"Mining, agriculture and lumbering are the basic industries of this country. It has always been considered a sound economic principle that the fruits of the soil make for prosperity in all lines of industry.

"The miners more than any other industry have suffered a great loss by the effects of war. I believe it is about time that our government recognized their plight and make a conscientious endeavor to give them an opportunity to again place their properties on a profitable basis. Such action would help to stabilize the entire industry.

"I realize the importance of this relief, because if it is not forthcoming, the miners who live in these communities will be deprived of their very existence with the resultant loss of their homes and everything for which they have labored so many years. Their lack of employment will necessitate a drastic readjustment of their lives, which, few will be able to stand. Should such a condition develop, most of the major towns in the Mother Lode will revert to Ghost Towns with which every one in the district is familiar.

"I am a firm believer that a gold coin standard provides the people with direct control of the governments's use and abuse of the public wealth. The right by citizens of this country to possess gold returns to them, where it rightly belongs the control over the public purse.. Bureaucracy, which has stifled the mining industry, has too long believed that the people are the servants of the government. The establishment of a free market for gold and the return of its possession by the people would make the government the servant of its people as it was originally intended and as it should be.

"I further believe the government should recognize its responsibility to its people by creating a program and assisting the miners in the production of strategic and critical minerals and metals. No one, I believe, wishes to engage in another war. However, we should, by stockpiling these essential minerals and metals, place our country in an adequate position to immediately be able to make available to industry their needs so that the implements of war manufactured with these minerals and metals be provided with all speed.

"I promise upon my election, I will do everything in my power to further the interests of the mining, lumbering and agricultural industry of this state."

OPENS NEW OFFICE

National Automobile Club, only statewide organization of its kind in California, opened another new district office April 30, 1948, at 454 Tenth Street, Santa Rosa, a principal point on U. S. Highway 101. This strategically situated office is completely equipped to function as a service center for local members and motorists traveling through the area.

KEEP YOUR DISTANCE

"Keep your distance if you want to be safe," advises Bert Stewart, Jr., Director of Public Safety for National Automobile Club. "If you keep at least one car length between you and the car ahead for each ten miles of speed, you will find it much easier to come to a safe stop in case of an emergency."

DRIVING WHILE DROWSY

Never drive while drowsy, warn officials of National Automobile Club's Public Safety Department. The briefest nap at the wheel of a moving car is usually long enough to cause disaster.

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

I nearly fell off the bench, but he kept on talking: "There is nothing wrong, Alf; I am as straight as a shoe string. There were reasons that when I came here made me change my name, but matters are coming out different than I expected and it won't be long before I will be the man I was before I left Syracuse. When the right time comes I will tell you the whole story and you will not be ashamed of your pard."

Then, as usual, when he got to feeling off, he whistled to the dog and they went out into the dark. You could have knocked me down with a feather, but I had sense enough not to follow. It's a puzzle, but I'll bet my pile there is nothing wrong about Pard.

JULY 20,1851.—We formed our river company; eight of us, and we let a contract to a couple of Maine men to whipsaw out twenty thousand feet of lumber at one hundred dollars per thousand. Pard is engineering the scheme and says that about the last of August it will be low water and then we will do some lively work wingdaming the stream. He is sure that the bed of the river will pay big if we can get at it and stay in it long enough to clean up a good sized strip of it. I don't know a thing about it except that it does seem reasonable that with gold all along the banks and in every creek and gulch that runs into it the gold ought to find its way into the trough of the river. That's the way it is along Deer Creek, and we were told by some miners who came down from the North Yuba, which seems to be a branch of our river, that in the fall of '50 they managed to get into it in a half-dozen places and that two or three of the companies cleaned up fortunes. One thing is sure, all our old theories about gold don't amount to much. Instead of the deposits petering out, the miners are

"Operation Hitch-Hike" Takes Salmon By Land

MERCED: "Operation Hitch-hike," in which adult salmon are taken over impassable sections of the San Joaquin River by tank trucks, is successfully under way, according to an announcement from the California Division of Fish and Game.

When low water levels threatened to block the vital egg-laying mission of the river salmon, biologists of the Division and the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service got together. They constructed a trap and loading station at the mouth of the Merced River where upstream bound fish approach snd and gravel barriers.

The netted fish are placed in trucks supplied by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, transported 20 miles upstream, and released in ample water to continue migration under their own power. Biologist Donald H. Fry of the Bureau of Marine Fisheries expects the shuttle servicce to continue for five weeks.

BOLTS MUST BE TIGHT

That thump in the front of the car when driving over a rough stretch of road often is the product of loose spring bolts. It makes for discomfort because the resilience of the spring is destroyed. It Is dangerous because it means that one leaf of the spring is taking all the strain. It is, however, most easy to remedy.

Build Nevada County by telling your friends in other localities what a fine place it is to live.

GIVE TO SALVATION ARMY

By Henry Hotvedt

The Salvation Army, with Headquarters for Nevada County in Grass Valley, is now conducting its annual financial campaign.

In these trying times we need your financial support more than ever in order to carry out our social service program to the communities of Grass Valley, Nevada City and the County. You know the kind of work we have been doing in the past, we would like to do even better in the future. We can do that only if you get behind us in a practical way.

We are carrying a heavy program here at home, supplying food and shelter to those who pass through; food and clothing to the needy in our local community. We have been able to secure work for women and men also. You can't go wrong by asking the Army to help you at any time of the day, nor can you go wrong by supporting this splendid work that treats all alike.

This is a local drive for funds to be spent locally. Just the kind of thing you like to see. Therefore we ask you to give that we may do. We also have Girls and Boys Homes, Old folks Homes, Hospitals. Besides all this, we are doing a big work in any land where the Allied armies are at work and where your boys are serving. We must help to keep them busy and interested in clean sports. Will you help us to make life more pleasant for them? You can do that by donating to your local Salvation Army in Grass Valley.

During the month of May there will be ladies and men calling on you for donations. These collectors will have our official collecting lists or receipt book.

Should no one happen to call on you, please mail or bring your check or cash donation to The Salvation Army, 134 So. Auburn St., Grass Valley. What ever you do, don't let the month of May slip away without us receiving your donation.

Ask anybody who has been in the forces what the Army did for them. Help us to keep it up. Now is the hour—this is the month—give your donation in May. For any further information you may like to have regarding our work, drop in and see us some day, we shall be glad to have you call and talk it over.

CLEANLINESS HELPS

The blindness that drivers experience when traveling on crowded roads at night is not due entirely to the bad adjustment of the other fellow's headlights. A dirty windshield does much to magnify the serious effects of glaring lights.

PACIFIC HOUSE

Pacific House, El Dorado County, was the halting place of many a famous wanderer in the early days, according to the National Automobile Club. Here stopped such famous people as Horace Greeley, Mark Twain, and Thomas Starr King.

CANDIDATE WM. DURBROW CITES HIS RECORD

NEVADA CITY: William Durbrow was born in San Francisco of a pioneer family which has been in California since 1849. He went to the public schools in San Francisco and graduated from the University of California in mining engineering.

The first few years after graduation were spent in his profession of mining engineering in Shasta and Butte Counties and in South America. As one who has a deep interest in mining, he believes that all possible effort should be made to revive and maintain that industry in the Sixth District area.

For the past 40 years his work has been principally in the organization, financing, and management of water properties. He was one of the organizers and was first president of the Glenn-Colusa Irrigation District in Glenn and Colusa Counties. During this time he lived in Glenn County and operated farming properties.

In 1929 Mr. Durbrow became engineer and manager of the Nevada Irrigation District in Nevada and Placer Counties, and was instrumental in refinancing and reorganizing that District.

For ten years he was president of the Irrigation Districts Association of California and took a leading part in that Association. He has been closely connected with the irrigation district developments in California and is still on the Executive Committee of the Association. Mr. Durbrow was appointed by Governor Young of California as a member of the Hoover-Young Committe to study and report on the economic feasibility of the Central Valley Project, and to make recommendations which finally led to the building of the Shasta and Friant daws and other works still in the course of construction.

He was an early advocate of the necessity of the preservation of water supplies for the future growth of our mountain and foothill areas, and believes that unless prompt steps are taken to preserve for these areas sufficient water supplies, they will not reach the degree of prosperity to which they are entitled due to their climate, their recreational possibilities, and the advantages they possess as residential areas, and for agricultural development.

Much of the recreational area of California lies wihin the Sixth District and roads are essential for the growth and welfare of our mountain and foothill counties. Mr. Durbrow believes the Sixth District is generally deficient in access and through highways and that accepted highway routes should be improved and completed at an early date.

Mr. Durbrow is a licensed Civil Engineer. He is a member of the Grass Valley Rotary Club, a director of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Society of California Pioneers, a director of the Nevada County Historical Association, and is chairman of the Tax Committee of the Sacramento Council of the State Chamber of Commerce.

The Sixth Assembly District, which Mr. Durbrow seeks to represent, comprises the mountain counties of both sides of the Sierra Nevada mountains from the North line of Nevada County to the South line of Inyo County.

CASTLE CRAGS STATE PARK

Castle Crags State Park, located four miles south of Dunsmuir in Shasta County, is reported by National Automobile Club to have been the site of the "Battle of the Crags" in 1855. It was during this battle, in which white settlers drove the Indians up into the crags, that the poet Joaquin Miller was wounded by an arrow.

striking it richer in every direction and in places where we did not think of looking for it a year ago. On Selby Hill there is a deep channel running into the mountain and there is more gold in it than there was on Brush Creek. On the other side of Sugar Loaf, way up on the hill, there is another big streak that seems to run in the same direction as Deer Creek, only it is five hundred feet higher up. Then down at Grass Valley they are taking out chunks of gold from quartz. Since this discovery the miners have got into their heads that these rocks are the most likely source of gold and some parties have built a crushing machine which pounds up the rock and leaves the gold free to catch in sluices.
